

Our Secret Project Revealed

This month an exciting project that we worked on last year is finally being revealed. After months of secrecy we can finally reveal that The Lanesborough will be opening its doors today (1st July) with many of its rooms featuring our chandeliers.

The exclusive Hyde Park Corner hotel has reopened after 18 months following a full restoration of the property.

In total they ordered 78 pieces from us, of which 51 were crystal chandeliers, including the bespoke chandelier seen on the right, that was designed for the Royal Suite. All rooms and Suites will be available for booking from 15th July.

This was the largest single order for chandeliers that Wilkinson Plc have ever received and were delighted to be selected by renowned designer Alberto Pinto for this project, especially as this turned out to be one of his final projects before his passing in 2012.

We hope to be able to release more details once the hotel is fully open to the public and back to its former glory, so keep an eye on our website for updates –

wilkinson-plc.com/news

Open Days

This month we are opening our factory and offices to anyone who is interested in the services that we offer here, as well as the products that we have for sale. It may be for personal interest or for potential clients of yours, either way you are more than welcome to visit.

The open days are being held on Tuesday 21st – Thursday 23rd July, for more details please contact us and we would be happy to send out an official invite with all the relevant information.

We hope to see you there!

Did you know...

...David Wilkinson is now a Liveryman of The Worshipful Company of Glass Sellers following his installation on the 11th June. You can read more about the Livery Company and David's installation on our website - wilkinson-plc.com/news/Liveryman