WILKINSON Plc

Newsletter – May 2014

Did you know that Wilkinson Plc used to be called R. Wilkinson & Son?

The company may have changed its name back in 1991, however the business retained the guidelines and techniques established by the earlier generations, Reginald Wilkinson and his son Arthur Wilkinson.

Today the business is run by Reginald's grandson David, who this summer will be celebrating 40 years working for the company and he is currently working with a number of his family members to ensure that the business will continue to trade way into the next generation.

Find out more about the companies history on our website - wilkinson-plc.com/wilkinson-history

An item that we forgot to show you in last month's newsletter, that featured a number of the stock items that we have for sale, is this beautiful antique 8 light Regency tent and waterfall chandelier circa 1820-30. It has 8 metal arms with cut glass drip pans and illustrated with tall French candles and also contains 8 internal lamps. A cut glass vase and dish support a row of rule drops and a tent of graduated round double point buttons, and below it, a five tier waterfall.

Standing at 105cm tall and 81cm wide it would certainly make a statement in any room.
